

Most Olympic Trials wins

- |                                 |                                       |
|---------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| 5 - Carl Lewis (100-2/200/LJ-2) | 6 - Jackie Joyner-Kersey (LJ-3/HEP-3) |
| 4 - Edwin Moses (400h-4)        | 5 - Earlene Brown (SP-3/DT-2)         |
| Frank Shorter (10k-2/Mar-2)     | Connie Price-Smith (SP-3/DT-2)        |
| Mal Whitfield (400-2/800-2)     | 4 - Madeline Manning (800-4)          |
| George Young (St-3/Mar-1)       | Maren Seidler (SP-4)                  |
| Michael Johnson (200-2/400-2)   | Mary Slaney (1500-2/3k-2)             |
|                                 | Marion Jones (100/200/LJ)             |
| 3 - Ira Davis (TJ-3)            | Gail Devers (100h -4)                 |
| Johnny Gray (800-3)             | 3 - Olga Connolly (DT-3)              |
| Ron Laird (20W-2/50W)           | Louise Ritter (HJ-3)                  |
| Joie Ray (1500/3k/10k) +        | Gwen Torrence (100-2/200)             |
| Jay Silvester (DT-3)            | Allyson Felix (200-3)                 |
| Carl Schueler (50W)             |                                       |
| Curtis Stone (5k-2/10k)         |                                       |
| Mac Wilkins (DT-3)              |                                       |

+ - Ray won the fastest of the 3 marathon races in 1928, but this was not an official trials qualification race.

Note that relay selections are ignored unless athlete not on 100/200/400 individual squads.

Most Olympic selections

- |   |   |
|---|---|
| 11 - Carl Lewis (100-2/200-2/LJ-5/400R-2) | 8 - Jackie Joyner-Kersey (LJ-4/HEP-4)           |
| 6 - Marco Evoniuk (20W-2/50W-4)               | Gail Devers (100 -2/400R/100H -5)               |
| 5 - Carl Schueler (20W/50W-4)                 | 6 - Mary Slaney (1500-3/3k-2/5k)                |
| George Young (St-3/5k/Mar)                    | Earlene Brown (SP -3/DT -3)                     |
| 4 - Hal Connolly (HT-4)                       | Willye White (LJ -5/400R)                       |
| - Willie Davenport (110h-4)                   | Connie Price-Smith (SP-4/DT-2)                  |
| - Johnny Gray (800-4)                         | Allyson Felix (100/200-3/1600R-2)               |
| - Al Hall (HT-4)                              | 5 - Chandra Cheeseborough (100-2/200-2/400) |
| - Henry Marsh (St-4)                          | Mae Faggs (100-2/200-3)                         |
| - Mike Marsh (100/200-2/400R)                 | Madeline Manning (800-4/1600R)                  |
| - Edwin Moses (400h-4)                        | Ramona Pagel (SP-4/DT)                          |
| - Larry Myricks (LJ-4)                        | Gwen Torrence (100-3/200-2)                     |
| - Parry O'Brien (SP-4)                        | Martha Watson (LJ-4/400r) #                     |
| - Al Oerter (DT-4)                            | 4 - Olga Connolly (DT-4)                        |
| - Charles Paddock (100-2/200-2)               | Barbara Ferrell (100-2/200-2)                   |
| - John Powell (DT-4)                          | Denean Howard-Hill (400-2/1600R-2)              |
| - Joie Ray (1500/3000*/10k/Mar)               | Francie Larrieu-Smith (1500-2/10k/Mar)      |
| - Bob Richards (PV-3/DEC)                     | Maren Seidler (SP-4)                            |
| - Jackson Scholz (100-2/200-2)                | Karin Smith (JT-4)                              |
| - Frank Shorter (10k-2/Mar-2)                 |   |
| - Jay Silvester (DT-4)                        |   |
| - Curtis Stone (5k-3/10k)                     |   |
| - Mal Whitfield (400-2/800-2)                 |   |
| - Mac Wilkins (DT-4)                          |   |
| - Lance Deal (HT-4)                           |   |

* Ray won the 3000m trial in 1924, a team event discontinued after that year.

Watson competed twice in the Olympic 400r but earned selection only once, competing when injuries depleted the team.

!! Devers placed 5th over 100m in 2000 OT, but did not compete in OG relay due to injury.