Next Year You Get eTN For Free!!!

Well, sort of. In one of the most radical changes in policy we've ever embarked upon, we're going to send eTN free to all paid-up subscribers of T&FN starting next year. No strings attached; we just wanted to add more value to the magazine subscription—and make the whole package more topical—without raising the price. Way more bang for your buck! Instructions for signing up through our website appear in the December issue of T&FN, which is being mailed even as we speak.

We had originally planned on cancelling the print version of TN, but will let it continue at least one more year. Instead of 10 issues, as with this year, we'll crank out 12, making it fully monthly. Domestic subscriptions will be $75.00, international subscriptions $100.00. The print version will continue to have more series and split data than the e one, and reflect later data that came available.
