

— Oslo DL: Bolt Back In The 200 —

by Roy Conrad

Oslo, Norway, June 9—It definitely wasn't Jamaica-like weather, but a torrential downpour couldn't dampen Usain Bolt's fire at Norway's DL stop.

The rains that were predicted in the days couple of meters leeway over Ndure.

The Jamaican simply stretched out his long frame all the way down the home-stretch before easing up in the final few meters. He still ran a world-leading 19.86, a wide 0.57 ahead of Ndure's 20.43. The

Asked how this race compared to his recent 100 wins in Rome and Ostrava, both in 9.91, Bolt said, "I felt more relaxed today. The [100s were] a little bit intense. There I need the speed, but in the 200 I know it's more about technique and execution."

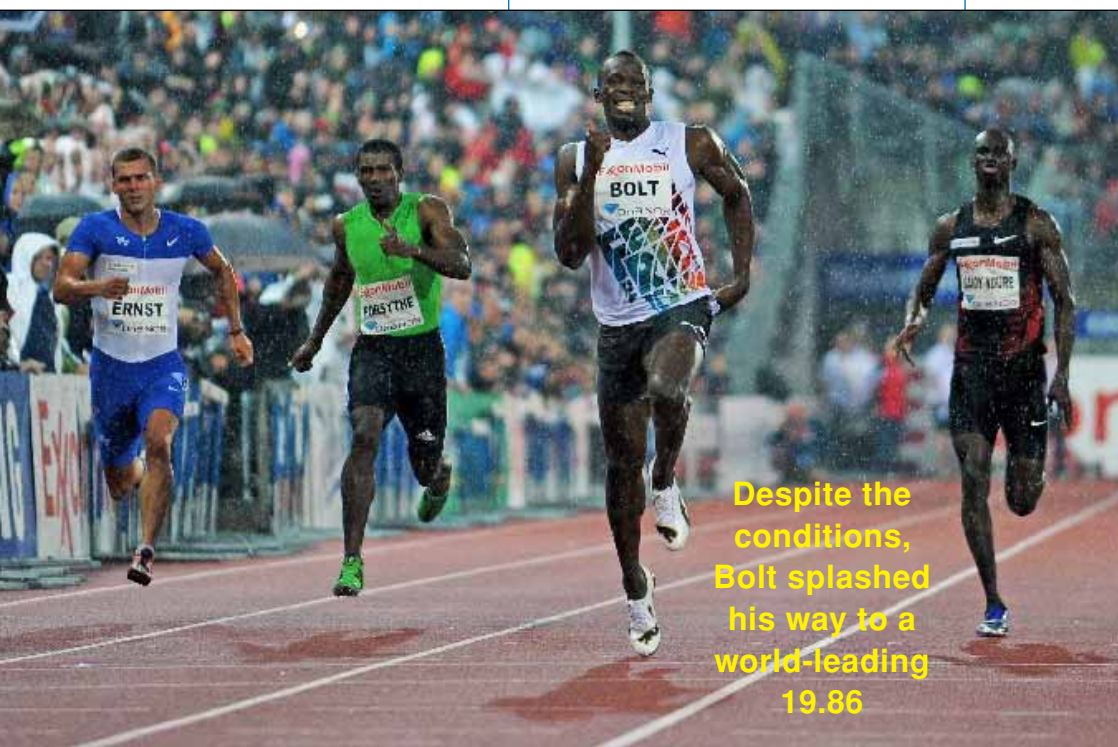

Bolt now plans to return home to continue his training for title defenses in both dashes at the Worlds. Since he has wild card invitations for Daegu he is likely to pass his national championships, which still shape up as a barn burner of a meet among the island's tough sprint corps.

Bolt's 19 seconds of speed overshadowed several superb longer races in the distance-renowned meet. Perhaps the most competitive came in the women's 5000, named in honor of the late Grete Waitz. The Norwegian distance great died in mid-April after a 6-year battle with cancer.

The Ethiopian corps of Meseret Defar, Sentayehu Ejigu, Genzebe Dibaba and Meselech Melkamu traded the lead for much of the contest, run into the teeth of the pouring rain. Defar led past the 3000 (8:50.36) and 4000 (11:50.39) posts.

Soon after the bell, Melkamu jumped Defar and the pair battled down the last backstraight with Ejigu and Dibaba only strides behind.

Defar regained the front coming off the last turn and all four of the runners sprinted down the homestretch for all their worth. But Defar's wide-swinging arms drove her leading up to the fifth stop on the Samsung Diamond League circuit—the ExxonMobil Bislett Games—opened up midway through the historic meet, but Bolt gave the capacity 14,800 fans who braved the conditions what they came for: a dominating win in his first 200 in 13 months.

Despite the conditions, Bolt splashed his way to a world-leading 19.86

Drawn in lane 6, with his expected main "rival" in Norway's Jaysuma Saidy Ndure one corridor inside him, Bolt let nobody else even dream of winning. He—yes—bolted to an immediate lead, running the turn hard to emerge into the straight with a home country sprinter slowed late and just held off Bolt's training partner Mario Forsthe by 0.06.

"It was a good race," said Bolt. "I can compete good in rain, as long as it isn't too cold. It was my first 200 in a year and month, so I'm proud of myself to run well."

Bolt hadn't run a half-lapper since May 23 of last year when he won with 19.76 at the Shanghai DL.

He continued, "I'm glad I came out of [this] injury-free. I'm back to being Usain Bolt; I'm not perfect, but I'm getting there."

ahead for a close win in 14:37.32. Ejigu (14:37.50) edged Dibaba by 0.06 for 2nd, with Melkamu back in 4th at 14:39.44.

"I hoped to go for a fast time, maybe even the World Record," said Defar, who turned in the record 36th sub-15:00 5K of her illustrious career. "But the weather was against it. Now, it is clear I want to run the 5000 in Daegu. About the 10,000, I will decide later."

In the race immediately before the 5000, all eyes were on reigning world 800 champ Caster Semenya. The South African lagged early in the previous week's Pre Classic race before closing in the final stretch to clock 1:58.88 for 2nd.

This time, the 20-year-old immediately held 2nd behind the pacer through a mjd-55-second first lap. She led past a 1:28.51 split at 600, but Mariya Savinova, last year's No. 1-ranked two-lapper, took over coming out of the turn.

Russia's Savinova held off Semenya down the homestretch, but she couldn't stave off the finish of Morocco's Halima Hachlaf, who had moved way outside to sprint in lane 4 en route to a season-leading 1:58.27 victory. Savinova clocked 1:58.44 and Semenya 1:58.61 as 8 placers ran under 2:00.

Two other distance winners from Kenya also battled the rain as well as their opponents. But steepler Paul Koech and miler Asbel Kiprop conquered both. First, Koech moved away with two laps to run and had built a lead of nearly 30 meters with 300 left. Koech finished strongly to win in a world-pacing 8:01.83 as Olympic champion Brimmin Kipruto couldn't keep pace and dropped back to 2nd in 8:05.40.

"I wanted to push the pace and help the others," said Koech, last year's top ranker. "They spoke of the European Record. But then nobody followed me, so I used my shape and was pushing alone."

In the Dream Mile, yet another contest run in the lashing rain, Olympic 1500 champ Kiprop lurked in 5th with 200 to go as world leader and Pre winner Haron Keitany led into the closing stretch.

In a neck-and-neck battle in the final meters, Kiprop edged ahead with less than 10 meters to go to score a 3:50.86 win ahead of Keitany (3:51.02) and fast-closing Mekonen Gebremedhin of Ethiopia (3:51.30).

Predictably, the field events suffered from the rain. But reigning Olympic and world shot champ Valerie Adams produced a notable DL seasonal debut as she hit 66-5¾ (20.26) to best rival Nadzeya Ostapchuk.

— New York DL: The Weather Rules —

by Rich Sands

Randalls Island, New York, June 11—The clock was irrelevant at the adidas Grand Prix, thanks to temperatures in the low 60s, a steady drizzle for much of the meet and, most significantly, nearly impenetrable headwinds on the homestretch.

While the record books went untouched, thrilling races kept the crowd entertained at Icahn Stadium for the New York stop on the nearly got the entire gap back, but Mullings came away with the win, as both clocked 10.26 against a 3.4mps (almost 8mph) gust.

“I knew Tyson was going to be coming so I was just holding on for my life,” said the Jamaican, who is now pointing to his country’s upcoming WC Trials. Gay refused to blame the weather or the false starts, but did point out that he’s been feeling “a little bit sluggish and I haven’t been under the Daegu B-standard). “This gives me a lot of confidence,” the South African said. “I just think the season’s going to go better and better.”

With headwinds of -3.7 and -2.8, the women’s 100 hurdles and 200 seemed to go in slow motion, but what they lacked in statistical significance they made up for in drama. Danielle Carruthers’ brilliant dash coming off the last hurdle nipped Kellie Wells, 13.04–13.06, while Allyson Felix (22.93) held off Bianca Knight’s final burst (22.96) over the half-lapper.

Gay (in red) couldn’t quite run Mullings down

Big kicks were needed to decide tight battles in the multi-lap races. Kenia Sinclair, taking a rare step up from her beloved 800, timed her move off the final curve perfectly to win the women’s 1500 in 4:08.06, just ahead of Morgan Uceny (4:08.42).

Unorthodox hurdle technique didn’t prevent last year’s Diamond League winner Milcah Chemos of Kenya from winning a battle with Ethiopian Sophia Asefa, 9:27.29–9:27.37.

From a modest pace the men’s 5000 turned into a one-lap sprint. Despite a furious final 100, Bernard Lagat ran out of room and couldn’t catch Ethiopia’s Dejen Gebremeskel, who prevailed, 13:05.22–13:05.46.

Those same headwinds that obstructed the sprints had an equally stifling impact on the horizontal jumps. Funmi Jimoh won the women’s long jump—her second Diamond League victory this season following a win in Doha—with a meager 21-3¼ (6.48), while world champ Brittney Reese managed just 20-10 (6.35) for third.

And a 54-8¼ (16.67) was shockingly enough to give world champ Phillips Idowu the triple jump title.

Things weren’t much better for the vertical jumpers. World champ Blanka Vlašić would surely like to forget her first competition in the U.S. She never found her rhythm amidst the rain and wind and cleared only 6-2¼ (1.90), losing to Sweden’s Emma Green-Tregaro (6-4¼/1.94) and suffering her first Diamond League defeat after dominating last year.

Diamond League tour.

No event illustrated the effects of the weather better than the men’s 100, where training partners Tyson Gay and Steve Mullings—coming off 9.79 and 9.80 clockings the previous weekend—were the headliners.

They would end up nearly half a second off their season’s bests, but nonetheless provided a gripping battle. After a mind-boggling three false starts reduced the field from 9 runners to 6, the race final got underway on the fourth try.

Though Mullings and Gay had identical reaction times (0.154), Gay started poorly and spotted his friend several meters by halfway. His trademark house-on-fire close able to really push in practice.”

The men’s 400, run in a steady rain, produced a dramatic finish. In the final three meters Jeremy Wariner simultaneously caught leader Grenada’s Rondell Bartholomew (45.17) and held off fast-closing Jamaica’s Jermaine Gonzalez (45.16) for a 45.13 victory.

“Under better conditions, it would have been a season’s best,” the ‘04 Olympic champ said.

One runner who didn’t mind the horrible conditions was Paralympic phenom Oscar Pistorius. Running out of lane 1, the double-amputee ran a strong race to finish 5th in 45.69, his best low-altitude mark ever (and

What Are All Those Symbols?

A combination of numbers and letters in parentheses, such as "9, x W" would mean that the person had moved to No. 9 on the all-time world list, with a performance outside the top 10. Had it say, been the No. 9 performance, the notation would have been 9, 9 W.

You might also find something like "x, 6A". The x in the first position means the mark is not a PR, but the performance is No. 6 in U.S. history.

We note all-time list positions for World (W), U.S. (A), College (C), Juniors (WJ or AJ) and High School (HS).

We also denote yearly list leaders for the World (WL), U.S. (AL), College (CL) and High School (HS).
