Jim Weaver Runs 6.1

Odessa, Texas, Feb. 17 -- Former North Texas State sprinter Jimmy Weaver came up with his fastest time of the indoor season by winning the 60 at the Odessa meet in 6.1, one of the fastest times in the nation this year. One of those he defeated was Ralph Alspaugh, who ran 6.0 earlier in the season but went unplaced in this meet. However, some observers felt that Alspaugh was overlooked by the finish judges and should have been given second.

Later in the 300 R. E. Merritt of Texas A&M won in 34.2 with Weaver second in 34.4. Broad jumper Bill Miller of McMurry remained undefeated indoors by leaping 24'10 $\frac{1}{4}$ ", his best mark this winter. Bob Swafford of Texas Tech nipped teammate Ronnie Biffle in a 7.3 high hurdles race while Texas A&M freshman Ted Nelson won the 500 in 59.5. A good performance came out of the high school division of the meet when Stephen Leddy of San Angelo won the 60 in 6.2.

2 Good Races For Tomeo

New York City, March 2 -- Frank Tomeo, the Fordham junior who reminds some fans of the great Tom Courtney, came up with a fine double to take the play away from some more notable stars at the New York Knights of Columbus meet.

Tomeo first won the 880 in a fast 1:51.8, a meet record, and then came back later to clock a 1:51.5 anchor leg as Fordham ran 7:34.0, one of the fastest times of the season. Whipped by the Rams was an Irish team anchored by American Ed Moran. The former Penn State runner was subbing for the injured Ron Delany after winning the 1000 by eight yards in 2:11.4.

Two long winning streaks were extended as Villanova's Frank Budd made it 15 straight with a 6.1 in the 60 and Hayes Jones ran his streak to 29 with a 7.1 in the 60 high hurdles. Tom O'Hara, young Loyola of Chicago miler, ran his quarters progressively faster to easily capture the mile in 4:05.6. He opened with a 63.4 440 and followed with 62.0, 60.9 and 59.3.

Gary Gubner shattered the meet record in the shot put by nearly seven feet but was still below his recent indoor record of 64'-11 $\frac{3}{4}$ " with a heave of 63'. His series was: 61'4 $\frac{1}{2}$ ", 62'7", 61'11 $\frac{1}{2}$ ", foul, 61'10 $\frac{1}{4}$ " and 63'. Villanova's Bill Joe set a personal best of 58'-

5 $\frac{1}{4}$ " in second place. John Uelses, still recovering from his recent bout with the flu, had enough of an edge left to win the pole vault at 15'4", the same height cleared by three other vaulters. Uelses had a miss at 14'6" but made 15' and 15'4" on his first attempts. At 15'8" no one made it although Villanova's Rolando Cruz was closest. George Kerr broke a five meet losing streak to win the 600 in 1:11.0 after Canadian Bill Crothers stumbled and almost fell while leading on the next to last lap. Crothers recovered enough to take second in 1:11.8.

Wisconsin's Sophomores Win

By Jack Clowser, The Cleveland Press

East Lansing, Mich., March 3 -- An amazing total of nine events were won by teen-age sophomores as Wisconsin's upstart Badgers thoroughly clobbered favored Michigan to win the 52nd Big Ten indoor championships.

The new champions scored 61 points, of which 45 were made by sophomores, exclusive of the mile relay. Michigan, paced by Ergas Leps' sixth and seventh conference championships, got 46 $\frac{1}{2}$. Other schools never were in serious contention -- Michigan State falling far behind its possibilities because of injuries and illness.

The "new breed" sophomores displayed by Coach Rut Walter, who moved over from Northwestern two seasons ago, were on fire for their first big test. Four Wisconsin men did their lifetime bests. It was Wisconsin's first undisputed Big Ten crown, either indoors or out, since 1931.

Whatever hopes Michigan had towards the close of the meet were extinguished when the Badgers scored 10 points in the 70 low hurdles. Sophomore Larry Howard, a 6'2", 188-pound football end, won both the highs and lows and twice defeated 1961 champion Ben McRae of Michigan.

High point man for the meet was little Sherman Lewis of Michigan State, who was the football team's leading ground gainer last fall. Lewis won the broad jump last night with a lifetime best 24'6", took the 300 in 31.2 to equal his best ever, and was second to Wisconsin halfback Bill Smith in a 6.2 60.

Howard's hurdle times, 8.4 for the 70 highs and 7.8 for the lows, both equaled Big Ten records. Leps accounted for the only broken meet record. After breezing only fast enough to take the mile, he toured the 880 in 1:52.6 to take a tenth off the record.

Other 19-year-old sophomores to win included Indiana's Cornelius Miller in the high jump at 6'7", Wisconsin's 250-pound Don Hendrickson in the shot at 53'9 $\frac{1}{2}$ ", Iowa's Bill Frazier in the 600 with a 1:12.2 and Al Carius of Illinois in the two mile with a 9:09.9.

Dyes Paces Abilene Christian

Ft. Worth, Texas, March 3 -- It was Abilene day at the Southwest Recreation meet as schools from the Key City dominated action in several divisions. Abilene Christian, led by versatile sophomore Jerry Dyes, named the meet's outstanding athlete, won the university division and freshmen-junior college section. In the high school division, Abilene also won there too.

Dyes sparked the Wildcats by throwing the javelin 241'1 1/2", best mark in the U.S. so far this season, and also taking the broad jump at 23'7 1/4". He also competed in the shot put and took second at 47'5 1/2". Outside of Dyes, the next most valuable man for ACC was senior Earl Young, whose anchor 47.4 leg paced the mile relay team to a 3:15.4 clocking. Young also anchored the winning 440 relay team to a 41.2 clocking, placed second to teammate Dennis Richardson in the 100 and won the 220 around a turn in 21.8.

The Styrons dominated action in the college division. Dave won the 100 in 9.6 and the 220 around a turn in 22.0. Don took the high hurdles in 14.3 and the lows in 22.7 against practically no competition. They then helped Northeast Louisiana to 41.5 and 3:18.3 victories in the 440 and mile relays.

Kansas Wins on Dramatic Finish

from Don Pierce

Kansas City, Mo., March 3 -- Pole vaulter Jack Stevens was the hero of the day for Kansas as the Jayhawks retained their Big Eight team title in the most dramatic conference meet ever held.

The Jayhawks overcame an early lead by a surprising Nebraska team and won by 11/12ths of a point, 53 1/4 to 52 1/3. After four events, Nebraska held a 33-7 lead on Kansas, mainly due to 22 points scored in both hurdles. Kansas spent the rest of the night catching up and it appeared the Cornhuskers had won the meet when Mike Fleming upset Bill Hayward of Kansas in the two mile. But Kansas came up with a 1-2 finish in the 880 which left it 49 for NU and 43 3/4 for KU with the mile relay and pole vault to go. Since Kansas already had two men over 14'2" in the pole it was sure of at least seven points provided it didn't lose first. This meant that Nebraska must fit a team between itself and KU in the mile relay to win. These two, plus Oklahoma, ran in the same heat. Nebraska won it in 3:20.6 but Kansas was only four feet behind. Hence it appeared Kansas had won but in the meantime Mike Clark of Missouri, whose pre-meet best for the season was only 13', was over 14'6", he and Stevens clearing on their first attempts. This maintained the suspense because Kansas could still lose its four-fifths of a point lead.

Stevens cleared 14'10" on his final try, jiggling the crossbar. Then Clark vaulted and cleared the bar but he didn't get a good pushoff and the pole hit the crossbar. Thus he lost a tie for first and a continued chance to beat Stevens. That made it a Kansas victory by 11/12th of a point, the closest in conference history.

Nebraska set some kind of a record in the Friday preliminaries, winning 15 consecutive heats in which the Cornhuskers had a man. Overlooked by the tremendous team battle was Oklahoma State's Charles Strong, who upset two highly-regarded opponents. Strong came from behind on Friday to win the broad jump at 24'2 1/2" and upset Olympian Anthony Watson of Oklahoma, who did 24'. Then the following day in the 440 Strong led all the way and held off a late bid by Colorado's Ted Woods, also an Olympian, in a fast 48.6. Strong also anchored the Cowboys to victory in the mile relay with a 48.3 carry. Oklahoma State ran 3:18.0.

Heptagonal Title to Harvard

Ithaca, N.Y., March 3 -- Harvard capitalized on its strength in the weight events to win its first Heptagonal indoor track title since 1957 with 43 $\frac{1}{2}$ points, only three-tenths of a point more than runner-up Army.

The Crimson scored 20 of its points in the afternoon when Harvard weightmen took first and second in both the 35-pound weight throw and the shot put. Ed Bailey easily won the weight throw at 61'7" while teammate Art Doten was second at 58'4 $\frac{1}{2}$ ". In the shot, Rick deLone won at 54'8 $\frac{1}{4}$ " with Sarge Nichols second at 53'10". Harvard had only one winner in the night session, Mark Mullin, who took the mile in 4:18.2. Only two meet records were broken. Yale's Bob Mack easily cracked the two mile record with a 9:08.7 and Navy's Ed Rector, who is only 5'6 $\frac{3}{4}$ " tall, raised the pole vault record by an inch by clearing 14'6", his personal best.

2 Relay Wins for Arizona State

Long Beach, Calif., March 3 -- Good early season relay clockings by Arizona State vied with the field event men for most of the attention at the Long Beach Relays.

Arizona State won the 880 relay in 1:25.7 with a team of Ron Freeman, Mike Barrick, Ulis Williams and Hubie Watson. Then the Sun Devils came back to win the mile relay in 3:12.5 with Freeman contributing a 46.7 third leg. Williams anchored in 47.5. Arizona State barely missed picking up another relay victory when the 440 team placed second to the Striders' 41.9.

Two other Arizona State athletes did not do as well. Junior John Rose and George Davies, a transfer student, were upset in the pole vault by Marine Dave Tork, who cleared 15'. Mel Hein of Southern California was second at 14'9", Occidental's Dave Servis third at 14'6" and Davies fourth, also at 14'6". Rose, who cleared 15'2 $\frac{1}{4}$ " a week earlier, made only 14'.

Another surprise came in the high hurdles when 13.8 man Bob Pierce of Southern California failed to qualify for the final. Gaston Green went on to win the final in 14.2. Joe Faust of Mt. San Antonio College won the open high jump at 6'8" but a better leap was made by Southern California's Lew Hoyt, who jumped 6'10" in the freshmen division.

2 Indoor Records Fall

Chicago, March 9 -- Hurdler Hayes Jones, who has been trying to break 7.0 for the 60 high hurdles for the past several years, finally did it at the Chicago Daily News Relays as Kansas also claimed an indoor record by running 7:30.8 in the two-mile relay.

Jones ran 6.9 to break the record first set by Milt Campbell in 1957 and tied by Jones many times since then. Don Styron also ran 7.0 earlier this season. The Jayhawks shaved two seconds off the two-mile relay record with a foursome of Kirk Hagan, Tonni Coane, Bill Thornton and Bill Dotson, who contributed a 1:51.1 on the anchor leg. Manhattan set the old record of 7:32.8 last year.

Jim Beatty broke four minutes for the second time this season with a 3:59.7 after getting some stiff competition from young Tom O'Hara, who placed second in a personal best 4:01.6. Henry Wadsworth defeated a good field to take the pole vault at 15'4 $\frac{3}{4}$ " as indoor record holder John Uelses finished fourth at 14'11 $\frac{3}{4}$ ". An upset occurred in the broad jump when Dave Raimey of Michigan leaped 24'3 $\frac{3}{4}$ " as world record holder Ralph Boston finished second at 23'9 $\frac{3}{4}$ ", only a quarter of an inch ahead of Henry White of Loyola. In other events, Western Michigan's Alonzo Littlejohn won the high jump at 6'8", Bruce Kidd won the two miles in 8:53.1, former Michigan sprinter Tom Robinson captured the 50 in 5.3, Bill Crothers defeated Jim Grelle in a 2:09.6 1000, George Kerr took the 600 in 1:10.8 and the fastest mile relay of the night was turned in by Missouri at 3:19.0.

6.0 for Frank Budd

New York City, March 10 -- Frank Budd finally got his 6.0 in the 60 tonight while leading his Villanova teammates to the IC4A indoor title.

Budd ran 6.0 twice, first clocking that time in the quarter-final and then repeating it in the final. He tied the indoor record shared by Herb Carper, Roscoe Cook, Dave Styron and Ralph Alspaugh. Gary Gubner of NYU was again impressive in the shot, throwing 64'3 $\frac{1}{2}$ " while Rolando Cruz of Villanova vaulted 15'3 $\frac{3}{4}$ " as Dick Plymale, Army's improving sophomore, cleared 15' for the first time. John Thomas of Boston U. high jumped 6'11", Villanova's Vic Zwolak was an easy mile winner in 4:09.3 and Yale's Bob Mack clocked 8:58.3 to take the two miles. Villanova easily captured the team crown with 31 $\frac{1}{2}$ points while Yale was a distant second with 16 $\frac{1}{2}$.

Jones Ties Hurdle Record

Milwaukee, Wisc., March 10 -- Veteran hurdler Hayes Jones, who set an indoor 60 high hurdles record last night, equaled another indoor record tonight when he ran 5.9 for the 50 high hurdles at the Milwaukee Journal Games. Jones first ran 5.9 in 1960 and tied the record last year. Jim Grelle failed in his bid for a sub four-minute mile and had to settle for a 4:01.4 while teammate Jim Beatty moved down to the 1000 and won in 2:10.7. John Uelses returned to his winning ways in the pole vault, setting a meet record of 15'6 $\frac{3}{4}$ ", his best vault since his recent illness. However, he could not make 16'. Bob Avant won the high jump at 6'10 $\frac{3}{4}$ " while veteran Brooks Johnson won the 50 in 5.3, edging his conqueror of the previous night, Tom Robinson. George Kerr won one section of the 600 in 1:10.8, the same time he ran in Chicago the previous night, while Dick Edmunds took the other section in 1:11.6. Oklahoma State set a meet record of 3:17.6 in the mile relay and Michigan took the two-mile relay in 7:39.6.

7'-1-2" Leap for Ridgway

Laredo, Texas, March 10 -- Lamar Tech sophomore Colin Ridgway became the first Australian to clear seven feet with a 7'1 1/2" clearance at the Border Olympics. Ridgway, who cleared 6'10" last season, became the ninth man to clear seven feet outdoors. Another Australian, Pat Clohessy of Houston, won the two mile in 9:04.1 while Fred Hansen pole vaulted 14'9". Texas Southern took the rest of the headlines. Barney Allen ran 14.0 and the TSU 440 relay team ran 40.2 while the mile relay quartet did 3:12.5.

McNaughton Pulls Upset

By Wally Donovan

The high jump was a real shocker. The man who had jumped higher than anyone in history failed to make the final. He was George Spitz, who, although hampered by an injured ankle, had been counted as almost a sure winner for the U.S. But he went out at 6'2 $\frac{3}{4}$ " , a height he had cleared many times with his sweat suit on.

When Spitz jumped 6'8 $\frac{1}{2}$ " indoors he was immediately established as the winter book favorite for the Olympic gold medal. His board floor jump was a quarter inch better than Harold Osborn's outdoor world record made in 1924. With Spitz out of the competition it remained for the other two American jumpers to carry on the U.S. tradition in the high jump. Cornelius Johnson, an 18-year-old Negro schoolboy from California, and blond Bob Van Osdel of Southern California remained in the competition to defend U.S. honor.

Competition started at 2:30 p.m. on July 31 and continued until after 6 p.m. Johnson and Van Osdel found themselves in a terrific battle with Duncan McNaughton of Canada and Simeon Toribio of the Philippines. McNaughton, a 20-year-old from Vancouver, was a teammate of Van Osdel's at Southern California and was not considered the best high jumper on the team. Van Osdel and Bill Brannan rated ahead of him. Toribio, fourth in the 1928 Olympics, was not considered a threat for the gold medal in Los Angeles.

Four athletes, Johnson, Van Osdel, McNaughton and Toribio, all cleared 6'6" but a recheck with the tape showed the height to be 6'5 $\frac{1}{2}$ ". The bar then went up to 6'7" but none of the four could make it. That led to an interesting jumpoff with the bar being lowered by about an inch. Johnson and Toribio were the first to be eliminated. McNaughton then cleared it but Van Osdel, jumping after him, missed. The tall collegian, wearing the maple leaf of Canada, became the winner and new Olympic champion. Van Osdel was second, Toribio third and Johnson fourth.

FINAL (Sunday, July 31)

1. Duncan McNaughton (Canada) 6'5 $\frac{1}{2}$ "; 2. Bob Van Osdel (USA) 6'5 $\frac{1}{2}$ "; 3. Simeon Toribio (Philippines) 6'5 $\frac{1}{2}$ "; 4. Cornelius Johnson (USA) 6'5 $\frac{1}{2}$ "; 5. Ilmari Reinikka (Finland) 6'4 $\frac{3}{8}$ "; 6. Kazuo Kimura (Japan) 6'4 $\frac{3}{8}$ "; 7. tie, J. Plawczyk (Poland) and M. Ono (Japan) 6'2 $\frac{3}{4}$ "; 9. tie, J. Portland (Canada), C. Menard (France), George Spitz (USA), B. Haug (Norway) and A. Tommasi (Italy) 6' $\frac{7}{8}$ "; 14. P. Riesen (Switzerland) 5'10 $\frac{7}{8}$ ".

Broad Jumpers Disappoint

As in the high jump, the man with the best official mark on record failed to do well. In fact, compared with the other record-breaking events at Los Angeles, the broad jump was a big disappointment.

Silvio Cator of Haiti, the first man to broad jump 26 feet and silver medalist at the 1928 Olympics, had a terrible day in the Coliseum pit. Holder of the official world record at 26' $\frac{1}{8}$ ", Cator had payed his own way to Los Angeles but ended up jumping nearly seven feet below his best -- 19'5 $\frac{1}{2}$ ". He was a tragic figure as he said, "I am terribly disappointed. I am now 31 and this was my last chance. I have been in three Olympiads. I hope to stay on for two weeks after the Games and jump in a meet that would give world sanction to a record. I have never failed my Haiti before. I will go home and throw away my spikes."

The big English-French speaking broad jumper was hounded by a bruised heel, a pair of injured legs and a turned ankle. It was tough for him as he stood by and watched the winner turn in a performance a foot less than his record.

Lanky Eddie Gordon of the University of Iowa, seventh-place finisher at Amsterdam, picked up the gold medal with a leap of 25' $\frac{3}{4}$ ". He was the only one to better 25 feet but he was still four inches short of Eddie Hamm's Olympic record made in 1928. The broad jump had figured as a duel among Cator, Chuhei Nambu of Japan and Dick Barber of Southern California. Nambu had bettered Cator's record with a leap of 26'2" the previous October but had been unable to approach that distance since then. Barber was a consistent 25-footer.

Nambu and Barber, however, never threatened Gordon and they didn't even get second. That went to Lambert Redd of Bradley at 24'11 $\frac{1}{4}$ ". Nambu was third at 24'5 $\frac{1}{4}$ " while Barber placed fifth at 24'3" behind Erik Svensson, who leaped 24'3 $\frac{3}{4}$ ".

FINAL (Tuesday, August 2)

1. Ed Gordon (USA) 25' $\frac{3}{4}$ "; 2. Lambert Redd (USA) 24'11 $\frac{1}{4}$ "; 3. Chuhei Nambu (Japan) 24'5 $\frac{1}{4}$ "; 4. Erik Svensson (Sweden) 24'3 $\frac{3}{4}$ "; 5. Dick Barber (USA) 24'3"; 6. Naoto Tajima (Japan) 23'5 $\frac{1}{2}$ "; 7. H. Berra (Argentina) 21'10 $\frac{1}{4}$ "; 8. C. de Figueredo Raposo (Brazil) 21'1 $\frac{1}{4}$ "; 9. Silvio Cator (Haiti) 19'5 $\frac{1}{2}$ "; 10. E. Crespo (Mexico) 19'1 $\frac{1}{2}$ "; 11. E. Kochermann (Germany) 18'9 $\frac{1}{4}$ ". L. Hutton, Canada, had no valid jumps.

(Ed. Note: Veteran pole vaulter Jim Graham was asked to comment on the question, "Should the fiberglass pole be banned." Here is his reply.)

First, I think it would be appropriate to put a definition on this thing called the pole vault. I think we might define it in this manner: The pole vault is the science and art whereby one skillfully and precisely utilizes his timing, strength and coordination, in association with the available facilities, to smoothly transform his horizontal momentum into a vertical direction, thereby elevating himself through a smooth arc up and over the crossbar -- all for the glory of a broken wrist, twisted ankle, sprained back or a fleck of sawdust in his eye. Needless to say, the last phrase is a little facetious.

Why should not I scream "fou" ? I worked hard to get over the 15'5" while I was in my prime. And I did it without the aid of any extra boost that the fiberglass pole might give. I have been a steel pole man in the past (Gill Vaultmaster). So why should not I be envious of the added advantage that the youngsters get today by using the fiberglass pole? Well, I will tell you why I am not.

I have already acknowledged that I think there is a definite difference in the two types of poles. Within the last few weeks I have been asked to comment on this very situation and my reply has been, "There is about as much difference between the two poles as there is between a lever and a catapult. But why knock it? It takes a good vaulter to effectively use either type."

I guess I should qualify my eligibility for making the foregoing statements, and I do so on the following grounds: One, I have used both types of poles to advantage; two, I vaulted three years with Aubrey Dooley, who I think did the most to popularize the fiberglass pole; and three, I watched George Davies work for two years.

I started the 1957-58 season with one of the old type fiberglass poles and I was doing quite well with it. My best height to that time was 14'8 $\frac{1}{2}$ ". Within three weeks on the fiberglass pole I was clearing 14'6" in practice, the highest I have ever cleared in a practice jump. Our first meet was an indoor meet at Kansas State University. I was feeling very good that night and was warming up at 14'. On my second warmup jump, I got everything out of the pole that it was capable of giving. At exactly the right instant the pole unwound and catapulted me way up over the bar -- and clear over the pit where I landed on the hard clay floor and broke my left wrist. So I know from experience that the fiberglass poles does give an extra boost. I guess that if my teammate had not broken my fiberglass pole the next season that I would have still been using one. It was broken at a crucial time so I had to switch back to the steel pole. I just never took up the fiberglass pole again.

At this point, I think it would be best to summarize what I think are the advantages and disadvantages of the two types of poles. STEEL POLES: Advantages; (1) A more solid foundation on which the stronger individual may exert the force of the "pull-up," (2) Consistency and reliability (clarified under the fiberglass pole). Disadvantages; (1) Does not absorb the shock of the initial impact, therefore it is harder on the lower back, especially for the taller vaulter. FIBERGLASS POLES: Advantages; (1) Absorbs the shock on "take-off," therefore allows a smoother swing and is not as strenuous on the back. This also allows one to hold higher on the pole. (2) Definite "lift" when the pole straightens out at the beginning of the push-off, thereby "pushing" the vaulter's chest higher than may be obtained with the steel pole. Disadvantages; (1) Inconsistency in performance. At times the arc of the tremendous bend in the fiberglass pole is misdirected and gets in the vaulter's way, or as Aubrey Dooley used to say, "Gets out from under me, there was nothing to pull against." (2) Too much spring on occasions - no explanation necessary. (3) For the strong "puller", the lack of a solid base against which to pull. The force of the pull is transformed into greater flexion of the pole instead of elevation of the vaulter's body. Others will have their own opinions as to advantages and disadvantages but this is how I see them.

In my opinion the fiberglass pole is an improvement in facilities. It is the result of progress and this is inevitable in any field of endeavor. Suppose (Dutch) Warmerdam would have started yelling "foul" when the lighter, more flexible steel poles came onto the scene. Look where this would have put the art of vaulting today. I dare say he would still hold the world record had the fate of the steel pole been what appears to be that of the fiberglass pole.

True, there is a change in the poles, but the fundamentals of vaulting have not been altered. A man still has to master the techniques before he can use any pole, and in my opinion, it is more difficult to master the fiberglass pole than it is the steel pole.

Why can not people give some of the credit to the vaulters? The younger generation capitalizes on improvements in techniques that the previous generation had worked out. This is true in any field so why not let the praise fall where it is due. Let us give the newcomers, who have the ability to improve on our mistakes, a slap on the back and a word of encouragement instead of trying to bury them in shame because they are guilty of what we all desire--being the best in our field.

Suppose the fiberglass pole is abandoned? What will it accomplish? Will it erase the fact that George Davies broke the world outdoor record and that John Uelses was the first man to crack the 16-foot barrier? No, it will not and those who do not accept these jumps are either narrow minded, jealous or refuse to accept the results of progress.

True, the fiberglass pole will put many more vaulters in the coveted 15-foot circle, but in doing so it will allow a few more youngsters to enjoy the feeling of self attainment and thereby help them develop self-confidence. Recently I have heard it said that the 15-foot vault does not mean anything anymore. Do not kid yourself, brother. To the youngster coming up, the 15-foot barrier is still just as challenging and exciting as it ever was and to he who crosses that barrier goes the prize of individual accomplishment. We are standing on the threshold of a new era in the pole vault. It remains to be seen whether we are allowed to pass through the door of progress and on to better things or whether the door is slammed shut in our face by the decisions of a few, most of whom have never pole vaulted in their lives.

So I say, no. Do not abandon the fiberglass pole. If those who have been put in the seat of judgment feel that they must do something, then I suggest that they recognize world records for each type of pole. This way the individual can choose the pole best fitted to his style of jumping, and if he feels one has the advantage over the other, then it is his decision that gives or denies him that advantage. This solution will also appease those who have jumped with the steel pole and now feel that others are taking advantage of their limited equipment of the time. Again, I say, let the athlete make the decision. Let us not strip the users of the fiberglass pole of their record-breaking accomplishments.

Outdoor Preview

The outdoor season has now started. Here is a rundown of the nation's top collegiate teams for 1962.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA -- The NCAA team champion Trojans will have another strong team this year but there are a few cracks in the team's armor, namely the broad jump and middle and long distances. The strongest events will be the 440 and high hurdles where junior Rex Cawley figures in both events. Last season, before he injured his leg, Cawley ran 46.2, 14.1, 22.5 for the lows and 49.9 for the 400 hurdles. He should be even better this year. Backing up the 440 is junior Kevin Hogan, who did 46.5 last season, while in the hurdles two other juniors, Bob Pierce and Brian Polkinghorne, will help Cawley. Pierce has bests of 13.8 and 22.8 while Polkinghorne has run 14.0. Bruce Munn, a senior, will lead the sprint group with marks of 9.5 and 21.0 while senior Warren Farlow (1:49.4) is the top 880 man. Fast improving junior Julio Marin (9:01.7 two mile indoors) will have to carry the load in the distances and NCAA shot put champion Dallas Long (64'7 $\frac{3}{4}$ "') will have little support. Senior Jim Wade (175'5") is the top discus man with Long (172'3 $\frac{1}{2}$ "') expected to help out on occasion. Sophomore Jan Sikorsky (249'4") is one of the nation's best in the javelin and junior George Fleckenstein (6'8" indoors) is the leading high jumper. The pole vault is adequately cared for by junior Mel Hein (14'11 $\frac{3}{4}$ " indoors) and sophomore Mike Flanagan (14'3 $\frac{1}{4}$ "'). The Trojans recently received a shock when coach Jess Mortensen died at the age of 54. Mortensen's USC teams never lost a dual meet and they won seven NCAA team titles. The acting coach of the team is USC athletic director Jess Hill, who guided the Trojans to NCAA track titles in 1949 and 1950.

VILLANOVA -- The Wildcats placed third in the 1961 NCAA meet with 40 points and all of those points are returning. The addition of several good sophomores make Coach Jim Elliott's crew a definite title threat. Senior Frank Budd (9.2 and 20.2) and Paul Drayton (9.3 and 20.4), also a senior, are two of the best sprinters in the country. Junior Bill Joe (58'5 $\frac{1}{4}$ " indoors) is a rapidly improving shot putter and sophomore Rolando Cruz (15'5") is a title threat in the pole vault. Besides the sprints, other strong events are the hurdles and the distances. Seniors Leon Pras (14.1w) and Bob Coffill (14.0) and junior Charles Hammock (14.1w) are the hurdlers while in the distances junior Pat Traynor and sophomore Vic Zwolak have both broken nine minutes for the two miles. Traynor was second in the NCAA steeplechase last year. Senior Jon Dante (1:50.3) is the top middle distance runner. The weakest points are the broad and high jumps and the 440.

ABILENE CHRISTIAN -- Weakness in most field events is the only thing that will stop this Wildcat team from finishing very high in the NCAA meet. The only outstanding field event man is sophomore Jerry Dyes, who broad jumps 24'1 $\frac{1}{2}$ "', triple jumps 48' and throws the javelin 243'6 $\frac{1}{2}$ "'. The hurdles are also weak but there are plenty of sprinters and middle distance men. The top man is senior Earl Young (46.2), second in the NCAA 440 last year. Junior Dennis Richardson (9.6 and 20.8) is the top sprinter outside of Young while NCAA steeplechase champion John Lawler and Denis Moore, both Australian juniors, give good strength in the middle and long distances. A sophomore to watch is Bobby Hargrave, who ran 4:12.2 as a freshman.

TEXAS A&M -- Some good sophomores make the Aggies of Coach Charlie Thomas a threat for the Southwest Conference title. The sophomores to be reckoned with are shot putter Danny Roberts (57'3 $\frac{1}{2}$ " indoors) and sprinters Pat Mitchell and R.E. Merritt. Thad Crooks (1:52.0) is the top middle distance runner and junior Ihan Bilgutay of Turkey will carry the load in the distances.

UCLA -- Decathlon star C.K. Yang holds the key to Bruin chances at either the dual meet or championship level. Yang, a junior, was bothered by leg trouble in 1961 but still ran 14.0 in the high hurdles, pole vaulted 14'6" and threw the javelin 238'7". Junior Arnold Tripp (9.6 and 20.5w) is the top sprinter while Dave Parsley, also a junior, ran 46.8 in the 440 last year while in junior college. The strongest event is the discus where seniors Gerald Carr (179'3"') and Jack Putnam (175'9 $\frac{1}{2}$ "') make a solid one-two punch. Senior Mil Dahl (4:05.2) leads a better than average middle distance crew although Coach Ducky Drake received a blow in this department when 1:48.9 880 man Andy Dunkell was ruled scholastically ineligible. Senior Winston Doby, fifth in the NCAA triple jump, did 24'6 $\frac{3}{4}$ "w and 48'3 $\frac{3}{4}$ "' last season and also will do some sprinting this year. The weak points on the team are shot put, high jump and pole vault.

TEXAS -- Froggy Lovvorn is now at the Longhorn helm and he has the talent on hand to win his first Southwest Conference title. Texas is quite strong in the hurdles where senior Ray Cunningham (13.9) and sophomores Bob Sewell (14.2) and Jim Cooper (14.3) hold forth. Another sophomore, Loy Gunter, opened the season with a 1:51.6 880 and heads the middle distance department while John Cram, also a sophomore, is highly regarded as a sprinter and broad jumper. Another strong department is the pole vault where senior Baylus Bennett and sophomore Steve Guynes are of national caliber. Bennett started his outdoor season with a 15'4 $\frac{3}{4}$ " effort while Guynes did 14'9 $\frac{1}{4}$ " indoors. Added field event strength comes from senior Jim Smith, who threw the javelin 228'3 $\frac{1}{2}$ " last year. Weak spots for the Longhorns are the 440, high jump, shot put and discus.

MARYLAND -- The Terps should again reign in the Atlantic Coast Conference although Coach Jim Kehoe is not as optimistic as he has been. Still Maryland has a number of outstanding athletes and could do well on the national level. Like several other schools the Terps strongest point is in the pole vault where junior John Belitza (15'4" indoors) and senior Thomas Glass (14'9 $\frac{1}{2}$ " indoors) are two of the best in the East. Another strong event is the mile where seniors Mark Wells (4:11.1) and Guy Harper (4:11.9) lead the way. Dick Smith (1:51.8), a junior, is the top middle distance runner and another junior, Chris Stauffer, ran 52.4 for the 440 hurdles last year. The top losses were 232' javelin thrower Nick Kovalakides and 14.1 hurdler Bill Johnson and Coach Kehoe has no replacements of equal caliber.

COLORADO -- Seniors Ted Woods, Jim Heath and Don Meyers give the Buffs good scoring potential on the national level. Woods missed last season because of scholastic ineligibility but is now back in action after winning the NCAA 400 title in 1960 with a 45.7. Another good quarter miler is Heath, who ran 46.5 last season and placed seventh in the NCAA meet. Meyers (25'3") is NCAA broad jump champion and a 15-foot pole vaulter to boot. Bob Crumpacker, also a senior, is the top shot putter at 56'3" while the javelin is in capable hands with senior Dick Clark (235'). The top sophomore is Tom Galbos, who has been pressing Crumpacker in the shot all during the indoor season. The weak points for Coach Frank Potts are the middle distances, hurdles and high jump.

OCCIDENTAL -- Coach Jim Bush takes over the Tiger reigns this year with some good front line talent although there are some weakness on the secondary level. NCAA 440 hurdles champion Dixon Farmer, a junior, can do a number of things well and probably will before the season is finished. Last year, along with his 50.8 in the 440 hurdles, Farmer also ran 47.1 in the 440. Other top juniors are middle distance runner Leroy Neal, weightman John McGrath and sprinter Steve Haas. Neal ran 1:50.1 and 4:09.1 in junior college last season while McGrath is showing rapid improvement as shown by his 56'2" and 179' bests early this season. Haas is the team's top sprinter with 1961 bests of 9.5, 21.0t and 47.1. The leading pole vaulter is senior Dave Servis (14'11¹/₄" indoors) and there is adequate hurdle representation in Gary Dolbow (14.3), also a senior. The top sophomores are all-around man Ron Whitney and middle distance runner Dick Jones. Last season Whitney ran 1:52.3 in the 880 and 52.8 in the 440 hurdles. Jones ran 4:07.7 in 1961. The Tigers have a well-rounded team with the strongest point the middle distances and the weakest spot the broad jump.

ARIZONA STATE -- If Coach Baldy Castillo could use his freshmen in the NCAA meet the Sun Devils would score quite well. Leading the freshmen contingent, which are eligible for varsity competition at ASU, are 46.1 440 man Ullis Williams and sprinter Henry Carr, who ran 9.5 and 20.6 last season. Those who are eligible for the NCAA meet and who should do well are pole vaulter John Rose (15'5³/₄" indoors), a junior, javelin thrower Frank Covelli (239'6¹/₂"), also a junior, senior hurdler Gaston Green (14.1) and sophomore sprinter Hubie Watson (9.5, 20.8).
